COINSILIUM COMPLETES US$125,000 INVESTMENT IN BUNDLE NETWORK CRYPTO TRADING PLATFORM

Coinsilium Group Limited (NEX:COIN), the blockchain venture builder and investor that finances and manages the development of early-stage blockchain technology companies, is pleased to announce that it has completed an investment of US$125,000 in Bundle Network Limited ('Bundle Network'), a Malta-registered company developing an online platform connected to multiple exchanges and facilitating cryptocurrency trading on these exchanges. The valuation terms of Bundle Network, whilst known to the Company, are subject to confidentiality due to commercial sensitivities. Additionally, Coinsilium will receive an entitlement to an undisclosed number of Bundle Network crypto tokens to be issued in the next few months.

Under the terms of the agreement, Coinsilium CEO Eddy Travia will join the Board of Directors at Bundle Network.

Rationale

As announced on 19th March 2018, Bundle Network has engaged with Coinsilium to provide advisory services in relation to their Token Generating Event (TGE). This investment is aligned with Coinsilium's strategy of supporting foundational services in the blockchain ecosystem such as the buying and selling of cryptocurrency and tokens. The Bundle Network platform also aims to provide an online social environment to enhance the growth of communities around various blockchain projects, thereby advancing development and awareness of the sector as a whole.

Eddy Travia, CEO of Coinsilium, commented:

"This strategic investment further illustrates Coinsilium's increasing foothold in the fast-growing digital token space. Coinsilium has already engaged with Bundle as advisors for their forthcoming token generation event, and we have been impressed by the application of the team and the market reach of their unique service. I look forward to joining the Board of Directors of Bundle Network and working closely with the talented Bundle Network team to support the growth of their business."

Umut Şenol CEO at Bundle Network commented: "We are very happy and proud to move our relationship with Coinsilium from an advisory role to a shareholder position. We have always felt their strong support and appreciate their valuable advice and contribution to our project. We are also pleased to be strengthening Bundle's board with Eddy's appointment as a director."
