

Strategic Collaboration Between Xlife Sciences AG, Huraypositive Corp., and OncoMASTER Inc. to Boost Digital Health and Precision Oncology in Asia

Zurich, 16th of June 2025: Xlife Sciences AG («Xlife Sciences»SIX: XLS), a Swiss-based incubator and accelerator for life sciences innovation, has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Korea's leading digital health pioneer, Huraypositive Corp. («Huraypositive»), and AI-powered oncology innovator, OncoMASTER Inc. («OncoMASTER»). This strategic agreement aims to foster a dynamic partnership in the fields of digital health and precision oncology, leveraging complementary strengths to drive clinical innovation and global reach.

The MoU was formally signed at a joint ceremony in Seoul by Oliver R. Baumann, Chief Executive Officer and Member of the Board of Directors of Xlife Sciences AG, Dooah Choi, CEO of Huraypositive Corp., and Woo Young Jang, CEO of OncoMASTER Inc.

The collaboration focuses on three key pillars:

- Expansion into Asia: Xlife Sciences will utilize Huraypositive's extensive healthcare ecosystem and OncoMASTER's domain expertise in AI-driven oncology to extend its footprint across Asian markets.
- Innovation Acceleration: The parties will co-develop transformative healthcare platforms that integrate AI, digital health, and clinical insights to advance personalized care.
- Global Market Access: Huraypositive and OncoMASTER will benefit from Xlife Sciences' academic and industrial network to explore commercialization opportunities in Europe.

This trilateral initiative marks a decisive step toward the globalization of the Xlife Sciences model, aiming to bridge academic innovation with clinical translation in Asia and beyond - while also enabling the transfer of promising innovations from Korea to Europe. It also reflects a mutual commitment to deliver novel, data-driven solutions for unmet medical needs through a collaborative ecosystem.

Oliver R. Baumann, CEO of Xlife Sciences, stated: «We are proud to enter this strategic alliance with Huraypositive and OncoMASTER, two forward-thinking leaders in digital health and precision oncology. This partnership underscores our commitment to expand internationally while accelerating development cycles through synergistic collaborations. We are confident this will contribute to a robust innovation pipeline and elevate patient-centric technologies across borders.»

Dooah Choi, CEO of Huraypositive, commented: «As a pioneer in digital health in Korea, Huraypositive is excited to collaborate with global innovation leaders like Xlife Sciences and OncoMASTER. By combining our digital health expertise with cutting-edge AI and precision health technologies, we aim to help shape a more connected, personalized healthcare ecosystem across Asia.»

Woo Young Jang, CEO of OncoMASTER, added: «Through this collaboration, we aim to expand the global reach of our AI-based models for cancer treatment prediction and bring data-driven precision oncology to broader patient populations. We also look forward to enabling new translational pathways with the support of Xlife's network.»

This agreement serves as a foundation for future joint initiatives and reflects a shared vision to redefine how healthcare innovation is developed and deployed across continents.
