Bitcoin Mining Activity for the Month of July 2026

- The annualized return for July 2026 measured in US dollars is slightly positive, even with Bitcoin falling to US$62,600
- The yield measured in Bitcoins is slightly lower than the return in June 2026 due to limitations in access to the electricity grid over a few days due to occasional restrictions

Paris, France, August 11, 2026, at 8:00 a.m. CET (CBI, Euronext Growth Paris: FR0014007LWO – ALCBI; OTCQB: CBIPF) – CRYPTO BLOCKCHAIN INDUSTRIES ("CBI") announces that, for the month of July 2026, mining server yield measured in US dollars is slightly positive, even with Bitcoin falling towards US$62,600. Measured in Bitcoins, it is slightly lower than the June 2026 return due to limitations in access to the electricity grid over a few days due to occasional restrictions.

In July 2026, the entire park, more than 700 operational servers, operated without major interruption, allowing for regular production of Bitcoins in line with forecasts.

Measured in US dollars, the yield is slightly positive, even with Bitcoin falling to US$62,500.

Measured in Bitcoins, the performance of mining servers for the month of July 2026 is slightly lower than the performance of June 2026 due to limitations in access to the electricity grid over a few days due to occasional restrictions.

This return is insufficient and the objective remains to return, thanks to the rise of Bitcoin, to around 20% per year.

This return is calculated only on a cash basis, by relating the gross margin generated by the activity (Bitcoins received during the month minus the monthly electricity bill) to the amount invested in the servers, all brought back on an annual basis. Accounting depreciations, as well as the resale price of the servers, are not taken into account in these estimates.

This profitability is likely to increase or decrease depending on various criteria, including the purchase price of the servers, the price of Bitcoin which directly influences the value of the commissions received, the cost of electricity, as well as the difficulty rate of the Bitcoin network which measures the complexity of mining a block. These annualized return figures are estimated for a given month, based on preliminary electricity billing by Blockware Solutions. If this invoice is subsequently adjusted by Blockware Solutions to take into account the actual consumption, the estimated yield is then adjusted retroactively.

Composition of the portfolio of crypto-assets and similar assets, including mining servers

CBI's portfolio of crypto-assets and related assets (see Table) recorded a stable performance compared to the previous month, despite a Bitcoin price that fell to around US$62,600.

The portfolio remains of a significant size and consists mainly of Bitcoins received as part of mining operations, the value of which was impacted during the month of June 2026, in addition to assets directly related to the production infrastructure, in particular mining servers. It also includes fiat currency reserves that the group plans to deploy in accordance with its capital allocation policy. Tokens created by CBI itself are not subject to an accounting valuation.

It should be remembered that some listed crypto-assets are held for periods of more than twelve months, as part of a long-term investment strategy.
