

Polydoros Neophytides was born in Limassol.

He graduated from E' Gymnasium Limassol, Science Section, and completed his military service in the National Guard as Second Lieutenant Reservist.

He is married to Constantina and has three children.

He studied Economics at the University of Essex in the United Kingdom.

He has held executive positions in banking institutions and audit firms in Cyprus and abroad, gaining a long experience in Finance. He has attended tens of seminars both in Finance and Human Resource Management and Taxation.

He is an active member of society and is also involved in politics since his school years. He has been elected at the Limassol School Board since 2011, where he currently holds the position of Secretary. He is the Vice Chairman of GSO and a member of associations and foundations.