

Curriculum Vitae

Vyronas D. Vyronos

He studied Economics at University College London (UCL) from where he graduated in 1987 with the title BSc (Econ) with Honours. He then went on to obtain a Master of Science MSc (Econ) in International Economics & Banking from the University of Wales, Cardiff in 1988.

In January 1989 he joined the Bank of Cyprus. From March until August 1989, he took unpaid leave to work at the European Union in Brussels as a trainee in Directorate XXIII, Customs Union & Tariffs.

In the period 1989-2010 he served the Bank of Cyprus from different posts in branches of the Limassol Region and thereafter held various managerial positions. As of September 2019 he is the Director of SME Banking.

He is a Member of the Board of Directors of CLR Investment Fund Public Ltd since March 2014.