Note:

As of 1 January 2023, companies not distributing at least 70% of their profit after taxation, as determined by the Special contribution for defence law of the republic, during the two years following the end of the fiscal year in which the profits arise, they will be deemed to have distributed this amount as dividend. Special contribution for defence at 17% will be payable on the amount of the deemed distribution of dividends to the extend that the shareholders are tax residents of the Republic of Cyprus at the end of the two year period from the end of the fiscal in which the profits arise. The amount of this deemed distribution of dividends is reduced by any actual dividend distributed out of the profits of the year. This special contribution for defence is payable by the company on behalf of the shareholders.

1 Incorporation and principal activities

The company was incorporated in the Republic of Cyprus as a Limited Liability Company on .
Holding of Investments

The registered office of the Company is situated at 13 KARAISKAKIS STREET, 3032, LIMASSOL.

2 Statement of principal accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted for the preparation of the financial statements are detailed below. These principles have been applied consistently for all the years reported in this set of financial statements, unless otherwise expressly stated.

Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union and the requirements of the Cyprus Companies Law, Cap.113.

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) as adopted by the European Union (EU) and the requirements of the Cyprus Companies Law, Cap.113. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale investments.

Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements are presented in Euro which is the main currency used in presenting the best substance of the company's transactions and activities.

Estimates and judgment

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards requires from Management the exercise of judgment and the use of estimates and assumptions that influence the application of accounting principles and the related amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historic experience and other factors that are deemed to be reasonable, based on the facts and the results determining the basis in which judgment is exercised in relation to the accounting values of assets and liabilities. Although these estimates are based on Management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results may ultimately differ from those estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are revised on a continuous basis. Revisions in accounting estimates are recognised in the period during which an estimate is revised if the estimate affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current as well as future periods.

Adoption of new and revised International Financial Reporting Standards

For the current year, the Company adopted all the new and amended IFRSs, which relate to its operations and are applicable for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2024. The adoption does not entail significant changes in the financial statements.

Income recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for services provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts and sales related taxes. Revenues earned by the Company are recognised on the following basis:

Notes to the financial statements

For the period ended 30 June 2024

• Sales of goods

Sale of goods is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been transferred to the buyer, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the company and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially measured at fair value, and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method. Where the liabilities are of a short-term nature the fair value is determined as equal to the nominal amount without any discounting.

Share capital

Ordinary shares issued and paid are classified as equity.

Provisions

A provision is recognised in the statement of financial position, when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, from which it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount can be made.

Taxation

Current tax liabilities and assets for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities, using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted, or substantively enacted, by the reporting date.

Comparative figures

Where applicable, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with changes in presentation adopted in the current year.

3 Critical accounting estimates and judgement

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of accounting estimates and assumptions, and also requires Management to exercise its judgement, in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies.

Estimates, assumptions and judgement applied are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Although these estimates, assumptions and judgement are based on Management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results may ultimately differ.

The Company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below:

Notes to the financial statements

For the period ended 30 June 2024

- Income taxes

Significant estimates are made in determining the tax liability for income taxes. There are transactions and calculations for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business. The Company recognises liabilities for anticipated tax issues based on estimates of whether additional taxes will be due. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the income tax liability in the period in which such determination is made.

- Impairment of non-financial assets

The impairment test is performed using the discounted cash flows expected to be generated through the use of non-financial assets, using a discount rate that reflects the current market estimations and the risks associated with the asset. When it is impractical to estimate the recoverable amount of an asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit in which the asset belongs to.

8 Financial instruments and risk management

Financial instruments

Due to its operations, the company is exposed to liquidity risk arising from the financial instruments in its possession. The company implements the following policies to monitor risk:

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that arises when the maturity of assets and liabilities do not match. When the maturity dates do not match, efficiency can be increased, but the risk of losses can also be increased.

The company applies procedures to minimise these losses, such as maintaining sufficient cash and other highly liquidable assets and by maintaining an adequate amount in committed credit facilities.

The contractual maturity of financial liabilities, including the estimated payments of interest, are shown below:
