Alfa Laval wins major brewery order in Brazil

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has received an order for a brewery solution from one of the largest global brewery groups. The order value is about SEK 135 million and was booked late June 2011. Delivery is scheduled for 2011.

In the brewery in Brazil the Alfa Laval equipment will be used in different stages of the beer-making process, including fermentation, cooling, filtration, blending and storage. The order includes a wide variety of hygienic products, such as valves, pumps, pipes, fittings and plate heat exchangers.

“It is a pleasure to take a big order within brewery”, says Lars Renström, President and CEO of the Alfa Laval Group. “This order confirms that increased living standard in Brazil is driving demand for beverages. We have a solid history in delivering hygienic products and solutions to breweries all over the world.”

Did you know... that Alfa Laval has been present in Brazil since 1959 and last year Alfa Laval's order intake in the country grew by 18 percent?
