Alfa Laval wins SEK 130 million order for infrastructure projects in Russia

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won order to supply process equipment to two infrastructure projects in Russia. The order value is approximately SEK 130 million and delivery is scheduled for 2013.

The Alfa Laval process equipment will be installed in two complete process lines for manufacturing of components for Russian infrastructure projects

“We are pleased to be involved in these projects, they confirm our position as reliable supplier of process technology”, says Lars Renström, President and CEO of the Alfa Laval Group.

Did you know... that Alfa Laval was established in Russia already in 1903, and in 1907 Alfa Laval and Alfred Nobel opened a joint factory in St. Petersburg?

About Alfa Laval

Alfa Laval is a leading global provider of specialized products and engineering solutions based on its key technologies of heat transfer, separation and fluid handling.

The company's equipment, systems and services are dedicated to assisting customers in optimizing the performance of their processes. The solutions help them to heat, cool, separate and transport products in industries that produce food and beverages, chemicals and petrochemicals, pharmaceuticals, starch, sugar and ethanol.

Alfa Laval's products are also used in power plants, aboard ships, in the mechanical engineering industry, in the mining industry and for wastewater treatment, as well as for comfort climate and refrigeration applications.

Alfa Laval's worldwide organization works closely with customers in nearly 100 countries to help them stay ahead in the global arena.
