

Castellum appoints Corporate Communications Director

Ingalill Östman has been appointed Director of Corporate Communications at Castellum. Ingalill has most recently worked with her own communications company, and also brings extensive experience to Castellum from several management positions at global companies. These include a position as Senior Vice President, Group Communications & Government Relations at SKF, as well as various roles within ABB.

As Director of Corporate Communications at Castellum, Ingalill will be responsible for overarching and comprehensive communication activities. Ingalill will join the Executive Team, and assume her duties in mid-January.

“We look forward to benefiting from Ingalill’s extensive experience in continuing the development of internal as well as external communications for the company. The creation of this new post is totally in line with ongoing changes at Castellum – wherein several functions will become more coordinated and efficient, and where the Communications function comprises a central element of the process”, says Henrik Saxborn, Castellum CEO.

This information is information that Castellum is obliged to make public pursuant to the EU Market Abuse Regulation. The information was submitted for publication at 8.00 CET on January 9, 2017.
