Changes in Investor's Management Group

Stefan Stern leaves Investor and assumes advisory assignments, among others for Wallenberg Foundations AB. Stefan Stern, who has been the Head of Corporate Relations, Sustainability and Communications, will conclude his employment on June 30, 2018. He has been employed at Investor since 2013, first as Senior Advisor and thereafter as Head of Communications. He has been a member of Investor's Management Team for the past three years. Magnus Dalhammar, Head of Investor Relations, will be acting Head of Communications.

"During his five years at Investor, of which three in the Management Team, Stefan Stern has made important contributions within communications and public affairs, and he has also played a significant role in developing Investor's sustainability platform. I wish him all the best of luck in his new assignments", says Johan Forssell, President and CEO of Investor.

"My years at Investor have been fantastic and educational. I was first recruited here as Senior Advisor, focusing on strategic advice, and thereafter I have also had operational responsibilities. Now, I once again get more time for the strategic work and can focus more on my advisory assignments. I am looking forward to maintaining the long-term relation to the sphere through the role as a Senior Advisor to Wallenberg Foundations AB", comments Stefan Stern.
