

PRESS RELEASE | 2020-01-21

Change in JM's Executive Management

Helena Söderberg, Director of Human Resources, has resigned at her own request.

We have started the process for recruiting Helena's successor and will send a separate notification when the recruitment is complete. Helena will remain in the position until July 2020.

"Helena started as JM's Director of Human Resources and as a member of the executive management team in 2010. She has played an important role in developing our human resources work. Her efforts have been significant for the Group's development for a long time. At the same time, I believe conditions are favorable for good continuity in our HR work going forward," says Johan Skoglund, President and CEO.
