

Lindab launches new wall cladding product

Lindab launches their new façade cassette, "Premium". The façade cassette system is a strong complement to Lindab's range of wall cladding products within the Building Components Division.

"The Premium façade cassette is a product that successfully brings together our philosophy about simplifying construction and our aim to develop IT tools that enhance customer value", says President and CEO David Brodetsky. "The launch of the Premium façade cassette system is in line with our strategy to develop a complete offering within Building Components. We see this reinforcement of the product range as an opportunity to strengthen project sales within both divisions of the Profile business area", concludes David Brodetsky.

The Premium façade cassette is a top of the range product with strong aesthetic appeal, mainly aimed at the Nordic market via the Building Components division. The Building Systems division will also offer the product to their customers across Europe.

"Thanks to the accompanying software, both architects and contractors receive a truthful rendition of the end result. At the same time, the installer receives precise drawings and an easy installation due to its click function", says Johan Andersson, Product Manager at Lindab.
