

PRESS RELEASE

14 December 2012

Lindab named Supplier of the Year

Scandinavia's largest builders' merchant chain, XL-BYGG, which is also one of Lindab Sweden's largest customers, has chosen the supplier of the year 2012. Lindab was selected the winner in competition with all suppliers, around 200 companies.

The jury's motivation: With more than 100 percent sales increase over the past three years, the winner has become an ever more important partner to Byggbtrygg (parent company to XL-BYGG). The winner provides excellent products of high quality, accompanied by service and logistics of very high standards. The winner invests in tailor-made training for our staff which is much appreciated and increases our focus and knowledge of the winner's products ever more. All this, in combination with a strong ambition to build our brands and participate in our customer events, gives us the pleasure to name the Supplier of the Year - Lindab."

Lindab Sweden's Managing Director, Joakim Lönnberg, congratulated and praised his team. "It is the daily efforts, big and small, that make the whole difference. We shall carry on working in this positive Lindab manner!"

Lindab's President and CEO, David Brodetsky commented:

"It is a great pleasure to receive such an honourable award from one of our largest customers. This is the way we want our partnerships to work - so that our service makes the customer successful."
