Lindab's Building Systems receives order for wood processing building complex in Kaliningrad (Russia)

Lindab's division Building Systems has received an order worth approximately SEK 57 Million to deliver an Astron® buildings complex for the industrial area TPK Golubievskij in Kaliningrad.

The complex will consist of 12 separate buildings, with a total area of 56,000 m². The storage buildings will be realized with AZM1 structures, while the production units are based on tailor-made structures with intermediate columns (SSB). The office part is planned to be a multi-storey building (MSB). All roof and wall surfaces will be clad with Astron® LPA and LPR panels.

The deliveries will start by the end of 2016. The erection process is to be finalized within 12 months thereafter.

Anders Berg, Lindab's President and CEO commented:

"We remain long-term committed to our establishments in Russia and CIS countries and see that we have a compelling offer to our customers, despite a challenging market situation. With our personal approach and tailor-made solutions, Lindab makes a difference on the market. Our commitment to develop innovative and flexible building solutions provide our customers with a competitive advantage, and this is highly valued, despite the market conditions."
