NCC to construct data center for Facebook

NCC Construction Sweden has secured an order from Facebook to construct a data center in Luleå. The contract has been signed with Pinnacle Sweden AB. The total order value is approximately SEK 800 million, of which NCC's share is worth approximately SEK 400 million. The assignment pertains to the first of three data centers planned for the area.

The project will be implemented in a joint venture between NCC and two US construction companies, DPR Construction and Fortis Construction.

The data center is estimated to be 28,000 square meters when completed. It is the first of three data centers planned for the area.

Facebook has imposed stringent energy-classification requirements and the data center will be certified in accordance with LEED's gold level certification.

“The building will require considerable energy so the client has imposed rigorous environmental-classification requirements, requesting the Gold level, which is LEED's second highest rating,” explains Mats Eklund, Department Manager at NCC Construction Sweden, Northern region. “We will be using Virtual Design and Construction (VDC) methods throughout the project.”

Construction will commence in October and completion is scheduled for December 2012.

The project will engage approximately 300 employees. Advanced installation tasks will account for a big part of the work.

The order will be registered in the fourth quarter of 2011.
