

Systemair has got an order for 328 jet tunnel fans to Italy

Systemair has got an order with a total value of 2,9 MEUR, for the refurbishment of the A32 Torino-Bardonnecchia highway tunnels, to be delivered between 2008 and 2010.

The A32 is a major route connecting Italy to France. The highway is 76 km long and has nine tunnels, the longest is 5.190 m long. The jet fans are made of stainless steel, can stand 400°C operational temperature and can be reversed.

- Our previous largest orders we have been received from the Middle East. This is a break-through on the European market for our infra structure fans, says Svein Nilsen, vice president marketing in Systemair.
