1. Your response to comment 3 and your proposed disclosure indicates that the tax impact of adjustments are generally determined based on statutory tax rates and the related jurisdictional tax attributes, including the impact through the Company's valuation allowance. However, your proposed disclosure does not clearly explain in any detail how the tax effect of the adjustments for each period presented in your 10-Q were determined. Please revise to clearly explain how the tax effect of your adjustments to net income to arrive at adjusted net income for each period presented were calculated or determined.
