CEO STATEMENT

Rising revenues and higher operating net

The operations and results continue to develop in a positive direction with increased revenues, higher net operating income, a clearly improved management result and stronger cash flow, which shows the strength of the portfolio.

At the extraordinary general meeting held on 20 August, it was decided that Nivika will change the financial year to calendar year. This means that Nivika will release a Q5 and a Q6 interim report to get in phase with the calendar year. It may seem like a small detail to change the financial year into calendar year, but for Nivika it is an important event. The company will now be comparable with its branch colleagues on the same report and the same quarter, which will make it easier for investors and analysts who follow real estate stocks and hopefully increase the visibility of Nivika even further.

Increased rental income and improved net operating income

The financial development for the fourth quarter shows financial stability and that the Company is gradually continuing to increase revenues and results. Profit from property management improved slightly despite the impact of the quarter of structural work that entailed one-off costs, such as cost of system changes, rescheduling of financial years and change of CEO. On a full-year basis the rental income rose by 10 percent to 676 MSEK (612) and the operating net increased by 16 percent to 481 MSEK (415). The increased operating net was mainly driven by increased income and good cost control. It is a statement of strength and proof that Nivika is doing the right things and that our business model works.

The property portfolio amounts to 11.4 billion SEK (10.6) as of August 31, 2024, where two-thirds of the rental value consists of commercial properties.

During the quarter, Nivika has signed an agreement to build and lease a property on the Bredasten industrial area in Värnamo to Rudhäll Industri AB, a supply chain company within the Bufab Group. Bredasten is a connection hub both east-west and south-north where Nivika is ready with land to welcome additional companies to the area.

Equipped for growth

In the last two years, Nivika has carried out a major restructuring where the Company has had a cost focus and optimized the balance sheet. This means that now when the interest rates are on the way down, the Company is well equipped for continued growth. There is room within the financial policy to increase the secured lending and the Company has very good cooperation with several Swedish banks that want to support the growth journey. Primarily, Nivika is looking for high-yielding properties within the Company's home markets and sees increasing activity and several interesting objects mainly in light industry. Nivika is also working on streamlining the portfolio, has completed disposals and remains open to selling properties that are not in line with Nivika's strategy. The goal of owning a portfolio with property values of 15 billion in 2028 with 2/3 commercial properties remains.

Continued focus on earnings per share and cash flow

The key interest rate cuts that the Riksbanken, Sweden's central bank, implemented and are expected to continue during the autumn will gradually contribute positively to Nivika's earning capacity, cash flow and earnings per share as the Company's fixed interest rate is relatively short. This, combined with profitable growth, will further strengthen the Company's key figures and position us even more as an attractive company to own and do business with.

I look forward to the end of the year and 2025 with confidence.

Lease portfolio

Nivika's focus on long rental agreements and many different tenants, customer sizes and industries reduce the risk for vacancies and rental losses, which the Company considers to provide the conditions for stable cash flows, which in turn enables further expansion through acquisitions and new development. In terms of rental value, about 2/3 of Nivika's rents are linked to and increase alongside the consumer price index (CPI). As of 31 August 2024, the weighted remaining contract period was 5.5 years (4.8), excluding residential and parking, with good spread of maturity dates.

FINANCING

A well-balanced financing structure with a combination of equity, bank loans, and other financing reduces financial risk and enables profitable growth. The past year, Nivika has resolved bond financing, increased secured financing, and strengthened equity. This has resulted in a strong capital structure that allows profitable acquisitions contributing to continued growth.

Financial position and liquidity

Nivika's operations are financed through a combination of bank loans, other liabilities, and equity. The financing is conducted through secured mortgage loans, building credits and revolving credit facilities from around ten financial institutions, primarily three major Nordic banks, as well as local savings banks and SBAB.

Over the past year, Nivika has implemented several measures to reduce the financial risk and strengthen key figures. Through new bank financing and a rights issue, the outstanding bonds have been resolved and the company has increased liquidity to continue making profitable acquisitions of high-yield properties in our core areas.

These measures demonstrate the strength of Nivika's operations, its property portfolio, and strong ownership. Combined with falling market interest rates, this has led to positive adjustments in the financial key figures. At the end of the period, the average interest rate in the loan portfolio, considering interest derivatives and excluding building credits, was 4.8 percent (5.3). The interest coverage ratio, measured over the last 12 months, was 1.8 (1.6). The average interest rate duration and loan-to-maturity stood at 1.9 (0.9) and 2.9 (2.5) years, respectively, as of August 31, 2024. The net loan-to-value ratio at the end of the period was 46 percent (50). The company's target for a maximum net loan-to-value ratio of 55 percent provides additional room for increased borrowing and value creation in our business areas.

The company actively manages interest rate risk through various types of interest rate derivatives. During the period, additional interest rate hedging has been implemented, and a total of 42 percent (30) of the loan portfolio is now hedged via derivatives.

As of the reporting date, long-term interest-bearing financial liabilities amounted to 5,304 million SEK (5,214), of which long-term bank financing accounted for 5,196 million SEK (4,520), bond loans 0 million SEK (650), and other interest-bearing liabilities 108 million SEK (42). The changes during the year are explained by new loans on existing assets, new loans for acquisitions and new constructions, repayment of loans in connection with divestments, and redemption of bond loans.

Bank financing is secured through mortgages on properties and group collateral. Some bank loans also include covenants related to the reporting of financial key figures and information obligations. All were fulfilled as of the reporting date. The share of green financing is increasing, with approximately 20 percent of the outstanding bank debt classified as green. Extensions are handled continuously, and nearly all loans with extensions during 2024 have been managed. Approved but unused financing as of the end of August 2024 amounted to approximately 406 million SEK for approved but undisbursed building credits, bank loans and overdraft facilities. Overall, the measures taken over the past year have resulted in a strong balance sheet that is well-prepared for growth.

EARNINGS CAPACITY

The current earnings capacity for the coming 12 months is based on the property portfolio owned by Nivika as of balance sheet date.

The earnings capacity is not a forecast but a snapshot whose purpose is to present income and expenses on an annual basis given property holdings, financing costs, capital structure and organisation at a specific point in time. Earnings capacity does not include estimations for the forthcoming period regarding the development of rent, occupancy rate, property expenses, interest rates, changes in value or other items affecting earnings.

Based on the property portfolio and the current signed leases per balance sheet date, the rental income for the coming twelve-month period amounts to 734 MSEK. The property expenses are calculated based on the current operating margin, amounted to 199 MSEK, which generates an operating net of 535 MSEK. The surplus rate is estimated to approximately 72 percent based on property costs for a normal business year including property-related administration. Based on the current scope of organization and operations, the central administration costs are estimated to 40 MSEK. Profit from property management is therefore estimated to 240 MSEK.

Current earning capacity does not include future income from construction in progress. According to estimates, ongoing projects add rental income of 35 MSEK. Based on the assessed surplus rate, the projects add an operating net of approximately 31 MSEK.

Seasonal variations

The net operating income at Nivika varies over the year, depending on seasonal variations that occur in the real estate industry and in the Company's markets. During the winter months the result is affected by higher costs mainly from electricity and heating. The leasees are structured in such a way that the tenants are charged and evenly distributed preliminary fee on an ongoing basis during the year, while the expenditure for the actual consumption is expensed in line with the outcome. This results in a lower surplus rate in the winter months, correspondingly, it is at a higher level during the summer months.

Tax

Deferred tax liabilities and assets have been calculated at a tax rate in Sweden of 20.6 percent.
