Proact to build SaaS platform for Adapcare

Adapcare, the provider of Pluriform Care - an adaptable system for care providers in the health care sector - has chosen Proact as its partner for the supply and implementation of a new flash storage-based environment for two data centres. Adapcare is signing a three year contract, including 24x7 Proact Premium Support.

The Pluriform Care application from Adapcare has been deployed in medium-sized and large care organisations from 2004 onwards. It is used across the company by, among others, home care, housing, day care, integrated care and healthcare equipment. A complete Electronic Client Dossier (ECD) has been included in Pluriform Care, whereby, among other things, the need for availability and scalability is defined as key business requirements.

Tom Vos, IT Manager at Adapcare: "We opted for Proact because of their track record in the field of data centre solutions and cloud services. Proact has also distinguished itself by its excellent advice throughout the preliminary phase. This gives us great confidence in the cooperation, and has further enhanced the service provision to the healthcare institutions that use our hosted software as a Pluriform Care service application."

The new environment consists of a dual data centre design in order to achieve a high availability, in combination with EMC VNX flash technology for the required scalability. Furthermore, Adapcare have 24x7 access to local Dutch support services and cloud services from Proact.

Lucas den Os, Managing Director of Proact Netherlands: "Applications have become an essential part of supporting the business processes of an organisation. At Proact, it makes us very happy that we will provide part of the infrastructure for an organisation like Adapcare, who are using an application like Pluriform. With its choice of Proact, Adapcare has ensured access to best-in-class expertise, innovative data centre solutions and a wide portfolio of cloud services. In addition, the fact that they can also rely on a certified help desk with local support engineers is often a reassuring thought for organisations in the public sector."

About Adapcare

Adapcare has in-depth knowledge of the health care sector, and knows how care processes can be supported with Pluriform Care. We also help care providers to simplify their administrative procedures, so that they can focus on the provision of care. Adapcare was a spin-off from Pluriform Software, a software provider who has been creating company-wide information systems for a variety of industries since 1985. Several hundred companies in different industries are supported by the ERP software Pluriform. From 2004, Pluriform Care has been successfully deployed in medium-sized and large care organisations. It is used across the company in, among others, home care, housing, day care, integrated care and healthcare equipment.
