DELAY IN LODGEMENT OF AUDIT-REVIEWED HALF-YEARLY ACCOUNTS AND PROPOSED DELISTING

DRDGOLD today announces that due to delays in finalising audit-reviewed half-yearly accounts for the period ended 31 December 2005, the Australian Stock Exchange Ltd (“the ASX”) has informed the company that trading of its shares on the ASX will be suspended, effective from 17 March 2006.

The requirement to prepare audit-reviewed half-yearly accounts is an ASX requirement and is not a requirement of the other major stock exchanges on which DRDGOLD is listed. To ensure that trading in the company’s shares remains fully informed, DRDGOLD has released its unaudited half-yearly financial statements for that period.

The delay in finalising the audit review of DRDGOLD’s half-yearly accounts with the ASX is regrettable, and is primarily due to transitional issues associated with International Financial Reporting Standards, which has been complicated by recent corporate restructurings undertaken by the DRDGOLD group of companies. DRDGOLD intends to lodge its audit-reviewed half-yearly accounts with the ASX in the next few weeks, at which time DRDGOLD will request the suspension on trading in DRDGOLD shares on ASX be lifted.

The suspension from trading relates to trading in DRDGOLD shares on the ASX. It does not affect trading in DRDGOLD shares on the other major stock exchanges on which DRDGOLD is listed, including the JSE Limited, NASDAQ and the LSE.

DRDGOLD also announces that following very low historical trading levels of its shares on the ASX, the company intends to refocus on its African operations and seek removal from the official list of the ASX. DRDGOLD will provide further details on its proposed delisting from ASX shortly.
