

Image Systems appoints Emilien Saindon as deputy CEO for the group

The board of Image Systems has decided to appoint Emilien Saindon as deputy CEO of Image Systems AB (publ). The role of deputy CEO is a newly established position within the group and was created to strengthen the management team for the future.

Emilien takes up the position immediately and will continue to hold his current role as business area manager and CEO of RemaSawco.

"During the time he has worked within our group, Emilien has shown good leadership and change management. The board of Image Systems intends to create a "center of excellence" in non-contact measurement technologies, and with this new position we strengthen the company's management for our future journey", says Anders Fransson, chairman of the board of Image Systems AB (publ).
