

Serneke recruits Chief Legal Officer

Daniel Modéus becomes new Chief Legal Officer at Serneke Group. He will lead a new legal unit within the Company's staff function and will be a member of the senior management team.

"As the Group grows, it is also natural that we strengthen our leading-edge expertise in areas of strategic importance to us and, with his extensive experience in the industry, Daniel will be an important addition. I particularly like Daniel's view that law should be exercised proactively as an enabler, rather than as a confrontational device that throws a wrench in the works. That attitude is well-aligned with our values and how we want to build long-term relationships with our customers," says Michael Berglin, Deputy CEO of Serneke Group.

Daniel Modéus is 48 years old and holds a bachelor's degree in law from Lund University. His experience includes practice at law firm Foyen and Stockholms Byggmästareförening (Stockholm Contractors' Association), where he was a contract lawyer. Since 2012, Daniel has been working as a lawyer in his own company, specializing in contract law.

"I look forward very much to starting work at Serneke, which I view as a highly dynamic player with great drive. I hope to further develop the legal function and support the company's continued expansion," says Daniel Modéus.

Daniel Modéus will join Serneke Group on October 15, 2018.
