Calgary, Alberta (FSCwire) – Dec 14, 2015 - Sparta Capital Ltd. (TSXV: SAY.H) (the "Corporation" or "Sparta") is encouraged by the universal climate deal just signed in Paris; an agreement that aligns with their vision.

Weaning off of fossil fuels to rid the world of global warming is at the core of what Sparta Capital Ltd. is about and that is the essence of the Paris deal. Close to 200 countries have agreed to limit warming of the Earth by another one degree Celsius from now. Sometime within the next half of the century, the goal is to not allow human-made greenhouse gas emissions to exceed the amount that nature absorbs. In others words, the Earth's carbon cycle would have to be put back into balance.

"Yes, this is a tall order, but we can't approach it from a too-high-a-mountain-to-climb view point. Today we have the vision, the human capital and the technology to start tackling the goal of serious carbon reductions," said Tom Brown, President of Sparta Capital Ltd.

The Paris deal outlines a system to encourage nations to move forward with voluntary domestic efforts to cut harmful greenhouse gas emissions and provides billions to help poor nations deal with the transition to a greener economy, but as critics are quick to point out, global agreements like this are prone to government change. This makes it critical for all of us to take part in the greening of the planet – that means business owners and individuals.

"Despite what many people fear, going green and clean does not have to cost a fortune. Sparta's efforts are based on the concept of saving customers money while helping them become more efficient and sustainable operators at the same time," Brown explained.
