Nel ASA: Receives purchase order for multiple H2Station™ hydrogen fueling station modules in the United States

(Oslo, December 24, 2021) Nel Hydrogen Fueling, a subsidiary of Nel ASA (Nel, OSE: NEL) has received a purchase order from a fuel supplier for multiple H2Station™ hydrogen fueling stations for a site in the United States

"We are excited to announce this new order for a U.S.-based fuel supplier, which is not only a great honor but also proves the strength of our state-of-the-art technology. We look forward to supporting our customer with its commitment to provide lower-carbon fuels and the deployment of our H2Station™ technology," says Eddy Nupoort, Director of Sales and Business Development in North America for Nel Hydrogen Inc.

The H2Station™ fueling station consisting of multiple station modules will be located in the United States and will expand the fueling coverage for hydrogen powered fuel cell electric light and heavy-duty vehicles. The H2Station™ units will be manufactured and installed during 2022 and 2023. The purchase order has a value exceeding $6 million.
