Ctac and Prologys start operations of Ctac Warehouse Optimization Services BV

Ctac Warehouse Optimization Services BV has started its operations as a joint venture between ICT services provider Ctac NV and logistics specialist Prologys BV. The joint venture was announced earlier. The new venture focuses exclusively on optimizing warehouses and logistic processes.

Ctac Warehouse Optimization Services BV is led by director Jaap van Neerven, founder of Prologys BV. "With this new joint venture, we support customers in identifying and solving their logistic bottlenecks. Many years of experience in logistic business consultancy have enabled us to determine after just one single customer interview whether we can make warehouse processes more efficient and profitable. Solving the issues in a warehouse in which SAP Warehouse Management is used, can be realized in a matter of weeks."

Henny Hilgerdenaar, CEO at Ctac: "This is an important step in our strategy to offer business solutions that are based on in-depth industry knowledge. I am convinced that our customers will profit from Prologys' many years of SAP Warehouse Management experience and improve the efficiency in their warehouses."

Ctac brings extensive SAP expertise and a large customer base into the joint venture. Prologys has many years of experience in warehouse logistics and has been involved in implementing and optimizing SAP WM for various companies. Ctac en Prologys will also start developing a generic solution with which SAP WM users can optimize their warehouse processes. This new, special software application will be available as of mid 2011.
