

Qurius starts near shore development centre in Czech Republic

07 March 2008 – In order to meet the increasing demand for cost-efficient software development as well as to expand the resource capacity quickly, Qurius launches its own near shore development centre in the Czech Republic. The NSDC will primarily serve the Qurius operations across the rest of Europe. Initial activities will focus on Microsoft Dynamics, with a possible extension to Microsoft .Net development at a later stage. In the second quarter of 2008 preparations will take place with an intended start of the operation by mid-year 2008.
