Océ announces its intention to voluntarily terminate its NASDAQ listing

Venlo, the Netherlands, June 19, 2007 - Océ N.V. [NASDAQ:OCENY], a leading international document management company organized under the laws of the Netherlands ["Océ"], today announced its intention to voluntarily terminate the listing of its American Depository Receipts [the "ADRs"] for quotation on the NASDAQ Stock Market ["NASDAQ"]. Océ also intends to terminate the registration of its ordinary shares under Section 12[g] of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, as amended [the "Exchange Act"], and as a consequence of which its reporting obligations under Sections 13[a] and 15[d] of the Exchange Act will cease.

CEO Mr. Rokus van Iperen stated: "In 1984 Océ had almost no footprint in the United States. To facilitate our expansion to the United States and increase our brand recognition we decided to list Océ on NASDAQ. Today the circumstances have changed completely as the U.S. realizes 43% of our revenues and we successfully acquired Bruning [1991], Archer Management Services [1999] and Imagistics International Inc. [2005] without expanding our equity financing."

CFO Mr. Jan van den Belt added: "The trend toward consolidation of the world's major stock exchanges, as evidenced by the merger of the New York Stock Exchange and Euronext, as well as Océ's adoption of the International Financial Reporting Standards, have greatly facilitated the ease of cross border investing. U.S. investors can easily trade in Océ ordinary shares through Euronext, Océ's primary market, or several other markets in Europe. The ADRs are thinly traded and represented less than 1% of all trading in Océ over the past twelve months. We investigated our listings and concluded that maintaining multiple listings and multi-jurisdictional filings results in significant burdens and costs which outweigh any benefits. Our decision will not impact our longstanding commitment to maintaining excellence in and complying with international standards of corporate governance and financial reporting. We greatly value and remain committed to our U.S. shareholders."

Océ's ordinary shares will continue to be listed for trading in Amsterdam [Euronext], and Océ's ADRs may be traded in the United States on the over-the-counter bulletin board.

As required by new Exchange Act Rule 12h-6, Océ will continue to make available all of its annual and quarterly information [as well as any other information that is required under Dutch law or under the Euronext rules] to its investors through its website. Océ will also continue to host all of its regular investor relations activities, analyst meetings and road shows, including those in the U.S.

Forward-looking statements

This release contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. These forward-looking statements refer to future events and may be expressed in a variety of ways, including the use of future or present tense language such as 'expects', 'projects', 'anticipates', 'intends' or other similar words.

Océ has based these forward-looking statements on its current expectations and projections about future events. Océ's expectations and projections may change and Océ's actual results, performance or achievements could be significantly different from the results expressed in or implied by these forward-looking statements based on various important factors, risks and uncertainties which are neither manageable nor foreseeable by Océ [and some of which are beyond Océ's control].

When considering these forward-looking statements, one should keep in mind these risks, uncertainties and other cautionary statements made in this report or in Océ's other annual or periodic filings made with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

These factors, risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to changes in economic and business conditions, customer demand in competitive markets, the successful introduction of new products and services into markets, developments in technology, adequate pricing of products and services, competitive pricing pressures within Océ's markets, the financing of Océ's business activities, efficient and cost-effective operations, changes in foreign currency exchange rates, fluctuations in interest rates, political uncertainties, changes in governmental regulations and laws, tax rates, successful acquisitions, joint ventures and disposals and the effects of recent or further terrorist attacks and the war on terrorism.

For a more detailed discussion of the factors, risks and uncertainties that may affect Océ's actual results, performance or achievements, reference is made to the annual report for 2006 [part 1 and 2], Océ's Annual Report on Form 20-F and any other filings made by Océ with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

Océ's forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which the statements are made, and Océ is under no obligation to update or revise publicly any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
