The following information relating to credit ratings is based on information made available to the public by the rating agencies. Credit ratings are intended to provide investors with an independent measure of the credit quality of an issue of securities. The rating agencies rate debt instruments by rating categories ranging from a high of "AAA" to a low of "D". Debt instruments which are rated in the A category by CBRS are considered to have maintained a history of adequate asset and earnings protection, are considered to be good quality securities and to have favourable long-term investment characteristics. Debt instruments which are rated in the A category by DBRS are considered to be of a satisfactory credit quality, with substantial protection of interest and principal.

The ratings herein mentioned are not a recommendation to purchase, sell or hold the Notes and do not comment as to market price or suitability for a particular investor. There can be no assurance that the ratings will remain in effect for any given period of time or that the ratings will not be revised or withdrawn entirely by either or both of CBRS and DBRS in the future if in their judgment circumstances so warrant. On October 31, 2000, Standard & Poor's, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("Standard & Poor's") and CBRS combined operations in Canada, and have indicated that they will be harmonizing outstanding CBRS ratings with those of Standard and Poor's.
