Item 4. Summary of Material Change

International StarTeck Industries Ltd. (the "Company") is pleased to announce that it has now successfully shipped its second Japanese prefabricated display home to Tokyo, Japan on schedule. The second home will arrive in Tokyo on November 9, 2001. The display home will then be assembled and marketed in the Tokyo area by way of an established Japanese sales team. International StarTeck Industries Ltd. continues to concentrate on achieving the highest quality, design, and easy assembly techniques which have been specifically designed for the growing Japanese market.

Item 5. Full Description of Material Change

StarTeck's Japanese partners have indicated that customers are viewing the Osaka show home on a daily basis, and are very satisfied with the quality and design.

The second Tokyo display home is a culmination of a new design, which has been developed jointly between StarTeck and Japanese clients. Both parties are continuing to work on several additional designs and layouts for further display homes and clients.

StarTeck's Japanese clients visited the company's manufacturing facility in 100 Mile House, BC on October 24 and 25, 2001. StarTeck was advised that a backlog of orders from customers has been accumulated and that, subject to the satisfactory completion and assembly of the Tokyo display home, a revised distribution agreement may be entered into between both companies for a minimum period of five years.

StarTeck's Japanese partners indicate that up to 80 homes could be shipped in the first year, and an additional 120 homes during the second year, although to date no additional orders have been placed.
