

Garibaldi Mobilizes for Drilling at Rambo High-Grade Gold Target

TSX: GGI

VANCOUVER, March 8, 2016 /CNW/ - Garibaldi Resources Corp. is pleased to announce that field crews have mobilized to commence first-ever diamond drilling at the Rambo high-grade gold target, part of the company's 100%-owned Rodadero Gold-Silver Project. Drilling will test this very prospective area for a gold system approximately 6 km east of the company's Silver Eagle deposit, underscoring the large-scale nature of this emerging mineral camp in central Sonora State.

Exploration work has shown a zonation in metal distribution at Rodadero with high silver and base metal values near-surface in the west, trending north-south for nearly 3 km from Silver Eagle through Reales, to silver-gold in the central part of Rodadero and more gold-rich mineralization further east in the Rambo area.

Contiguous to the Rambo southern border is a small-scale gold-silver mine currently in production, exploiting two main veins. Drilling at Rambo is designed to intersect gold mineralization and a potential new discovery at Rodadero at depths of less than 100 meters in a strongly altered volcanic rock package.

Mineralization at Rodadero, which features 12 targets over nearly 50 sq. km, is interpreted as being related to a large zoned mineralized system that is exposed at various levels from west to east. Rodadero is strategically located in a prolific part of central Sonora in close proximity to several gold and silver mines operated by intermediate and major producers.
