5.1 Full Description of Material Change

Even Technologies Inc. was served with a statement of claim by Trafalgar on March 20, 2008 relating to a 12% convertible debenture that Even issued to Trafalgar dated August 23, 2007. Trafalgar is claiming damages for breach of contract, punitive damages, pre-judgment and post-judgment interest, as well as costs and any such further and other relief as the Honorable Court may seem just.

Litigation counsel for Even considers that the claims lack merit. Even submits that it has fulfilled its obligation under the debenture dated August 23, 2007. Even intends to vigorously defend itself against these claims and has directed its litigation counsel to pursue all legal remedies to redress any loss or damage that it has suffered. To this effect litigation counsel has countered by filing a writ on March 28, 2008 seeking a declaration that Even has met all of its payment obligations under the Debenture to date.
