A Press Release was issued on March 22, 2000.

4. Summary of Material Change

Sextant announced that it has entered into an agreement with Deborah Drisdell to join Sextant as Vice-President, International Co-Productions/Acquisitions.

5. Full Description of Material Change

Thomas Howe, President, Distribution, Sextant is pleased to announce that Sextant has entered into an agreement with Deborah Drisdell to join Sextant as Vice-President, International Co-Productions/Acquisitions.

Ms. Drisdell was most recently Director, International Relations for Telefilm Canada, a position that she held for eight years. Ms. Drisdell was responsible for the negotiation of many of Canada's international co-production treaties, which now number 44 in total. Under Ms. Drisdell's aegis, official treaty co-productions in Canada have seen an unprecedented growth in annual production volume.

"Deborah will bring invaluable experience to Sextant. She has certainly helped define Canada as a leader in co-production financing and a key international production partner," says Mr. Howe.

Concurrent with Ms. Drisdell's appointment, Sextant has formed a senior executive committee to deal with the issues of corporate governance as they relate to current and future key government programs. The addition of Ms. Drisdell adds unparalleled experience in this area to the Sextant management team.

Sextant is an integrated film production, television production and distribution company with an emphasis on international co-production and is actively involved in the development of new media content for dissemination worldwide.
