NEWS RELEASE

Vancouver, British Columbia, February 14, 2023 – ProAm Explorations Corporation (“ProAm” or “the Company”) (TSX.V:PMX) is pleased to advise it has completed an airborne geophysical survey consisting of a 585-line-kilometre low-level magnetic gradient and radiometric survey over a one survey block of its Jet property in Nevada in 2022. The company has now completed an intensive review of the airborne survey and defined a ground-based geological exploration program to further our understanding of this data. This program will be initiated, weather permitting, in the immediate future.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of
ProAm Explorations Corporation
