Desert Lion Energy Announces Receipt of Mining License for Namibian Lithium Project

TORONTO, Canada, August 27, 2018 – Namibian lithium developer and emerging lithium concentrate producer Desert Lion Energy Inc. (TSXV: DLI) (OTCQB: DSLEF) (“Desert Lion” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce the receipt of its Phase 2 mining license, for the mining of in situ material, by the Ministry of Mines and Energy, Namibia. The mining license has been granted for an initial 10-year period, effective immediately, and covers a total area of 68.7 km², which includes the area where the Company’s Rubicon and Helikon mines are located. The remaining 232.3 km² of exploration license will be retained by Desert Lion for ongoing exploration activities.

“We are excited to announce this key step in advancing Desert Lion’s Namibian Lithium Project. Receipt of this mining license demonstrates the strong working relationship between our Namibian team, the Ministry of Mines and Energy, Namibia and various stakeholders,” commented Tim Johnston, President and CEO. “We look forward to building a sustainable project, which the community where we operate, employees and investors and Desert Lion will be proud of.”

About Desert Lion Energy

Desert Lion Energy is an emerging lithium development company focused on building Namibia’s first large-scale lithium mine to be located approximately 210 km from the nation’s capital of Windhoek and 220 km from the Port of Walvis Bay. The Company’s Rubicon and Helikon mines are located within a 301 km² prospective land package, with known lithium bearing pegmatitic mineralization and the Company is currently in Phase 1 of its production plan, producing and exporting lithium concentrate from stockpiled material. The project site is accessible year-round by road and has access to power, water, rail, port, airport and communication infrastructure.
