Alabama State Bar Signs Agreement for November 2019 launch of Identillect's Delivery Trust®

Alabama State Bar adds Identillect Technologies as a member benefit to give attorneys access to the robust email security provider.

Irvine, CA – Nov. 27 2019 – Identillect Technologies Corp. (the "Company" or "Identillect") (TSX-V: ID) , a trusted leading provider of compliant email security, announces the Alabama State Bar has selected Delivery Trust® as a new member benefit for bar members to meet and exceed regulatory requirements and to help protect their members' sensitive communications. Identillect has recently partnered with various state bars and legal bar associations providing the legal community the simplest and most secure way to communicate with clients and associates.

The Alabama State Bar (ASB) is the official statewide regulatory and licensing organization of attorneys in Alabama and currently has more than 18,600 members. It is dedicated to promoting the professional responsibility and competence of its members, improving the administration of justice and increasing the public understanding of and respect for the law. The bar also takes pride in providing security education and digital communication tools which bar members have direct access to utilize. This has created the desire to add the legal cyber-security leader Identillect Technologies to its member benefit providers.

Phillip W. McCallum, Executive Director of the Alabama State Bar, commented, "The Alabama State Bar continually advances efforts to improve cyber-security protection for our members, and we are excited to provide our members access to Identillect. This partnership delivers a robust security platform along with cyber-security education about current threats and regulatory compliance for our members. We believe Delivery Trust will be a great tool for our members."

Identillect CEO Todd Sexton states, "Identillect is proud to be the security communication provider for Alabama State Bar. Alabama State Bar is a respected partner which encourages advanced cyber-security measures. Identillect has taken a solid foothold with state bar associations across the country and look forward to being a significant contributor to the ongoing benefits the Alabama bar members have grown to expect."

News Release

In a recent American Bar Association article, David Ries, a well-known lawyer and author on cyber-security stated, "Confidential data in computers and information systems, including those used by attorneys and law firms, faces greater security threats today than ever before—and they continue to grow! Security breaches are becoming so prevalent that there is a new mantra in cybersecurity today: "It's when not if," a law firm or other entity will suffer a breach." In an ABA Tech Report 2017, article they highlighted that lawyers are being specifically targeted.

Cyber-security threats are increasing, 43% of cyber-attacks are aimed at small businesses due to the lack of security infrastructure. The damages cybercrimes create for a business has no end in sight, it is estimated businesses will incur more than \$6 Trillion annually by 2021. The best way a business can combat being another statistic is through employee education and security protocols.
