

New Age Metals Announces the Passing of its Director John Londry

July 29th, 2025 Rockport, Ontario - New Age Metals Inc. (TSX.V: NAM; OTCQB: NMTLF; FSE: P7J.F) (“NAM” or “the Company”) announces with great sadness the passing of our director John Londry. On behalf of the Board of Directors and management team, we extend our deepest sympathies and condolences to John’s family and friends.

John first joined New Age Metals in 2004 as VP Exploration and became a Director of the Company in 2009 where he served the shareholders up until his passing. In addition, he was a geologist and mining consultant with Emerald Geological Services and a Director of Rockport Capital Corp. John was an experienced seasoned veteran geologist working in mineral exploration since 1969. He was involved in projects ranging from grassroots to advanced and development stages (Holloway, Eagle River, River Valley). John gained a wide and varied experience base in exploration techniques and various commodities. He held senior positions of with Noranda Exploration, Hemlo Gold Mines and Battle Mountain Gold.

Harry Barr CEO, remarked “it is with great sadness that we share the news of John’s passing. Our entire Company, past and present, mourns his passing. John was a well-respected colleague and friend to many. John will be remembered not only for his professionalism, skills and commitment, but for his kindness, generosity and sense of humour. His greatest attribute was that he was a true gentleman. He will be greatly missed to all who had the pleasure to work with and know John.”

On behalf of the Board of Directors

“Harry Barr”

Harry G. Barr
Chairman and CEO
