

Sylogist Receives Advance Notice of Nomination of Directors from OneMove Capital

CALGARY, Alberta — April 13, 2026 — Sylogist Ltd. (TSX: SYZ) (“Sylogist” or the “Company”), a leading public sector SaaS company, today confirmed receipt of advance notice of nomination of directors (the “Notice”) from OneMove Capital Ltd. The Company is reviewing the Notice with its advisors.

Consistent with OneMove's pattern of shifting demands and changing positions, the Notice puts forward a slate that differs from the nominees previously named in OneMove's requisition, including the substitution of a nominee from a group OneMove previously championed as “...committed to a focused mandate...” just over two months ago.

The nominations and last-minute substitution from OneMove and Tyler Proud continue a pattern of erratic behaviour from Mr. Proud. As disclosed previously, Sylogist has repeatedly offered Mr. Proud board representation proportional to his ownership interest in the Company and consistent with what the Company had previously provided to another large shareholder. The Company has also repeatedly expressed a willingness to work with Mr. Proud in other ways, including giving him an opportunity to provide meaningful and appropriate input in the Company's governance changes. The Company's offers to Mr. Proud have been more than reasonable, and it has attempted repeatedly to end the unnecessary proxy contest undertaken by OneMove. Many of Sylogist's largest shareholders agree that the Company has made all reasonable efforts to end this proxy contest. Mr. Proud knows this. Yet, at each stage of those negotiations, including on multiple occasions in recent weeks, Mr. Proud has been unwilling to take “yes” for an answer.

There is no action for shareholders to take at this time. Sylogist will be sending a management information circular to shareholders that will contain important information about the Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders scheduled for May 12, 2026. In the meantime, shareholders who have questions should contact Sylogist's shareholder communication advisor, Laurel Hill Advisory Group, at the contact information below.
