5.1 Full Description of Material Change

On March 5th, 2007 Gold World has filed on SEDAR the press release “Gold World Announces Exploration Program In China” in which the Company announces Phase-1 of a $1.2 million exploration program on its 16 km² Xiqinggangping gold property in the Ganshu Mining District, Henan Province in China. The program is based on the recommendations in the 43-101 Technical Report, prepared by Christian Derosier, Gold World’s Qualified Person for gold exploration (see press release January 16, 2007).

The exploration program is designed to discover and delineate a commercial gold deposit taking into consideration earlier reported positive gold assays from grab sampling and trenching campaigns as well as from chip sampling of several tunnels on the property.

The exploration program has as its main components geophysics, geochemical, diamond drilling and tunnelling as well as geological mapping and supervision.

Contingent on previous data and new survey results follow-up programs are planned with the emphasis on gold bearing veins to explore and to develop the commercial potential of this property taking into consideration the availability of manpower and the attractive cost profile of China.
