Item 5. Full Description of Material Change

Asia Now Resources Corp. announced that the Company has written off its less promising Great Wall project in Hebei Province China, to focus its resources on its Beiya gold and Habo copper/gold/molybdenum projects in Yunnan Province of China where recent results allow the Company to test specific zones of mineralization.

The exploration work completed to date produced only weak anomalies in the Great Wall project, so the Company has decided to abandon this project and concentrate its exploration efforts on their high priority projects which have far greater potential. Accordingly, the Company will be writing off deferred exploration expenditures of $691,387 during Q4/08.

Dr. Noel White, Chief Technical Advisor to the Company said, "One of the hardest parts of exploration is deciding to drop ground. Faced with slow, technically difficult and expensive ongoing work on the Great Wall project, we have made the responsible choice to focus our work where our chances of success are greatest."

Dr. Kaihui Yang, the President, also added: "Asia Now will always focus on promising ventures. When we have received enough information to make a decision, we act immediately. The Company is currently focusing on its highest priorities - the Beiya and Habo projects where our work is concentrating on known mineralized zones."
