

VIQ Solutions Announces New Secure Digital Modernization Wins in Nigeria and Mauritius

MARKHAM, ON, October 12, 2016 - VIQ Solutions Inc. ("VIQ" or "VIQ Solutions") (TSX Venture: VQS) is pleased to announce that VIQ, in conjunction with partners Digital Voice Processing of South Africa, has been awarded two new secure digital capture and management contracts in Nigeria and Mauritius.

"An increasing number of customers in Africa and the Middle East are recognizing the superiority of the secure VIQ technology platform, with our emphasis on cybersecurity, data privacy and integrated workflow management," said Sebastien Paré, President and CEO of VIQ Solutions Inc. "We are seeing increased sales activity in law enforcement, courts and hearings in those regions as customer demand shifts to secure platforms with advanced feature sets and sophisticated management technologies."

The Nigerian contract calls for the installation of VIQ's digital court recording solution in multiple courtrooms, with remote stations for playback and transcription of court proceedings.

The Mauritius win relates to an ongoing environmental appeals tribunal. The VIQ recording platform will be installed across multiple locations to capture and manage proceedings.

Both contracts were won by long-time VIQ partner Digital Voice Processing of South Africa.

"These two new customer wins are indicative of the larger advanced digital modernization movement that is underway in the region, with an emphasis on security, connectivity and advanced workflow features," said David Tilling, VIQ's Regional Sales Manager for Europe, Middle East and Africa. "With an established, knowledgeable partner in Digital Voice Processing, the VIQ footprint in Africa continues to grow amongst sophisticated customers who require advanced digital workflow solutions as part of their overall modernization initiatives."
