Item 4: Summary of Material Changes

The Company announced leadership enhancements for its wholly-owned subsidiary, Unifire, Inc. (“Unifire”). See Item 5.

Item 5: Full Description of Material Change

The Company announced that Dan Raczynski, founder of Unifire and previously Chief Operating Officer (“COO”), will now oversee all aspects of Unifire's government contracting solutions as President of Unifire.

Additionally, the Company announced the return of Mr. Craig Tobin who rejoined Unifire as its COO. Mr. Tobin previously held the position of Vice President of Unifire, during which time he was instrumental in setting the organization's direction, including its successful ingress into the distribution and government contracting industry. Mr. Tobin has held multiple senior management positions throughout his career in business development, sales management, marketing management, international team leadership and mass production. Mr. Tobin graduated from Eastern Washington University with a Master of Business Administration.

The Company also announced that Christie Boss, former Senior Controller of Unifire, has been promoted to Chief Financial Officer of Unifire. Since joining the Company in October 2020, Mrs. Boss's exceptional accounting and leadership expertise has led to vast organizational and process-related improvements resulting in greater efficiencies and reduced costs. Mrs. Boss will continue to work in tandem with Mission Ready's Chief Financial Officer, Dong Shim, overseeing the accounting operations.
