Gatekeeper Unveils New High Definition Cameras at 2015 International Chiefs of Police Conference

Abbotsford, BC October 22, 2015 - Gatekeeper Systems Inc. (“Gatekeeper” or the “Company”) (TSX.V: GSI; OTC: GKPRF; FSE: 1GK) is pleased to announce that it will be showcasing its’ latest XFORCE™ high-definition cameras for the law enforcement market at the International Chiefs of Police Conference (IACP) in Chicago, Illinois from October 24 to 27, 2015.

The unveiling will include the Company’s latest version of its high-definition body cameras and micro in-car forward facing camera that maximizes vision while reducing in-car clutter. The latest version of the high-definition body camera includes the DOKN-GO™ appliance, providing an easy-to-use total solution for smaller law enforcement agencies. The micro high-definition in-car camera has wide angle and long-range capability in a single two mega pixel package. For further information on the Company’s product line, please visit the ‘Products’ section of the Company’s website.

As previously announced on August 20, 2015, the Company entered into a strategic reseller agreement with SunGard Public Sector Inc. (“SunGard”) to promote Gatekeeper’s body-camera and evidence management solution to their law enforcement customer network. Accordingly, the Company and SunGard have planned a joint marketing and product launch of Gatekeeper’s body-camera and data management system scheduled for October 24th at the IACP conference at booth #4060.

SunGard Public Sector provides software solutions that help government agencies, utilities and non-profits provide more effective services to their citizens and communities. SunGard Public Sector is an indirect subsidiary of SunGard, one of the world’s leading software and technology services provider with approximately USD $2.8 billion dollars in annual revenue.
