A Coupon, if any, is payable only if the Underlying Interest Return on the applicable Valuation Date is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold. If the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level and the Notes have not been automatically called by the Bank, an investor will receive less than the Principal Amount at maturity. Coupon:	Noteholders may receive a Coupon on each Coupon Date unless the Notes have been automatically called by the Bank prior to the applicable Valuation Date. The Coupon for the relevant Coupon Date will be calculated by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the applicable formula below: (i) if the applicable Underlying Interest Return is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold: $\text{Coupon} = \text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Payment Rate}; \text{ or}$ (ii) if the applicable Underlying Interest Return is less than the Payment Threshold: $\text{Coupon} = \text{US\$0.}$
Payment Threshold:	-30%

Maturity Redemption Payment:	If the Notes are automatically called by the Bank, Noteholders will be paid the Maturity Redemption Payment on the applicable Auto-Call Date, in addition to any Coupon payable on that date. If the Notes are not automatically called by the Bank, Noteholders will be paid the Maturity Redemption Payment on the Maturity Date, in addition to any Coupon payable on that date. A Noteholder may not elect to receive the Maturity Redemption Payment prior to the Maturity Date. The Maturity Redemption Payment will be calculated by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the applicable formula below: (i) if the Closing Level on a Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is greater than or equal to the Auto-Call Level, the Notes will be automatically called by the Bank and the Maturity Redemption Payment will equal: $\text{Principal Amount};$ (ii) if the Notes have not been automatically called by the Bank and the Final Level is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment will equal: $\text{Principal Amount}; \text{ or}$ (iii) if the Notes have not been automatically called by the Bank and the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment will equal the greater of: (a) $\text{Principal Amount} \times (1 + \text{Underlying Interest Return})$; and (b) $\text{US\\$1 per Note.}$ The Maturity Redemption Payment will be less than the Principal Amount if the Notes are not automatically called by the Bank and the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level.
Auto-Call Level:	105% of the Opening Level
Barrier Level:	70% of the Opening Level An investor's principal is protected at maturity unless the Final Level is less than 70% of the Opening Level.
Fees and Expenses:	A selling commission equal to 3.00% of the Principal Amount of each Note sold will be paid to representatives, including representatives employed by the Agents, whose clients purchase Notes. The selling commission and the fee of the independent agent are included in the issue price of the Notes. There are no additional fees or expenses of the offering directly payable by Noteholders.

Secondary Market:	The Notes will not be listed on any stock exchange. Noteholders choosing to sell their Notes to TDSI prior to maturity may be subject to an Early Trading Fee of up to US$4.00 per Note initially, reducing to zero after 170 days (see table below).

Sample Calculations

The examples set out below are included for illustrative purposes only. The levels used in the examples are not estimates or forecasts of the Closing Level on the relevant dates. Neither the Bank nor either of the Agents predicts or guarantees any gain or particular return on the Notes. The following examples assume an initial investment of US$100,000.00 (1,000 Notes), that the Notes are held until maturity or redemption and that the Closing Levels follow the paths shown in the charts below:

Example #1: Closing Level on every Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is less than the Auto-Call Level, the Underlying Interest Return on every Valuation Date is less than the Payment Threshold, and the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level.

				Total Coupons:	US$0.00
				Total (Coupons and Maturity Redemption Payment):	US$16,318.81
				Annual Compounded Rate of Return:	-45.14%

The Notes are not automatically called by the Bank because the Closing Level on every Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is less than the Auto-Call Level. The Noteholder does not receive any Coupons because the Underlying Interest Return on every Valuation Date is less than the Payment Threshold. Since the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment would equal:

$$\text{Maturity Redemption Payment} = \text{Principal Amount} \times (1 + \text{Underlying Interest Return}) = \\ \text{US$100,000.00} \times (1 - 83.68119\%) = \text{US$16,318.81}$$

In this example, the Noteholder would receive the Maturity Redemption Payment of US$16,318.81 on the Maturity Date, and the Notes yield an annualized compound rate of return of approximately -45.14%. In this example, the Noteholder would not receive any Coupons and the Maturity Redemption Payment would be less than the amount originally invested in the Notes.

Example #2: Closing Level on every Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is less than the Auto-Call Level, the Underlying Interest Return on twenty of the Valuation Dates is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold, and the Final Level is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level.

				Total (Coupons and Maturity Redemption Payment):	US$123,340.00
				Annual Compounded Rate of Return:	8.35%

The Notes are not automatically called by the Bank because the Closing Level on every Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is less than the Auto-Call Level. The Noteholder receives a Coupon on twenty Coupon Dates because the Underlying Interest Return on the relevant Valuation Dates is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold. No Coupons are paid in respect of the remaining Coupon Dates because the Underlying Interest Return is less than the Payment Threshold on the relevant Valuation Dates.

Coupons (Coupon Dates: as per table above):

$$\begin{aligned} \text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Payment Rate} &= \text{US$100,000.00} \times 1.167\% \\ &= \text{US$1,167.00}; \text{ or} \\ &\text{No Coupon is payable} \end{aligned}$$

Since the Notes are not automatically called by the Bank and the Final Level is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment would equal the Principal Amount.

$$\text{Maturity Redemption Payment} = \text{Principal Amount} = \text{US$100,000.00}$$

In this example, the Noteholder would receive Coupons totaling US$23,340.00 and the Maturity Redemption Payment of US$100,000.00 on the Maturity Date. The Notes in this example yield an annualized compound rate of return of approximately 8.35%, assuming that the Coupons paid are reinvested at such rate.

Example #3: Closing Level on the Valuation Date immediately preceding the first Auto-Call Date is greater than or equal to the Auto-Call Level.

Valuation Date	Closing Level	Underlying Interest Return	Coupon	Auto-Call Level & Feature	Maturity Redemption Payment
0	174.40			183.12

				Total Coupons:	US$7,002.00
				Total (Coupons and Maturity Redemption Payment):	US$107,002.00
				Annual Compounded Rate of Return:	14.37%

The Notes are automatically called by the Bank on the first Auto-Call Date because the Closing Level on the Valuation Date immediately preceding the first Auto-Call Date is greater than or equal to the Auto-Call Level. The Noteholder receives a Coupon on the first six Coupon Dates because the Underlying Interest Return on the relevant Valuation Dates exceeds the Payment Threshold.

Coupons (Coupon Dates: as per table above):

$$\text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Payment Rate} = \text{US$100,000.00} \times 1.167\% = \text{US$1,167.00}$$

Since the Closing Level on the Valuation Date immediately preceding the first Auto-Call Date is greater than or equal to the Auto-Call Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment would be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Maturity Redemption Payment} = \text{Principal Amount} = \text{US$100,000.00}$$

In this example, the Noteholder would receive Coupons totaling US$7,002.00 and the Maturity Redemption Payment of US$100,000.00 on the first Auto-Call Date. The Notes in this example yield an annualized compound rate of return of approximately 14.37%, assuming that the Coupons paid are reinvested at such rate.

				Annual Compounded Rate of Return:	14.81%

The Notes are not automatically called by the Bank because the Closing Level on every Valuation Date after the fifth Valuation Date is less than the Auto-Call Level. The Noteholder receives a Coupon on each Coupon Date because the Underlying Interest Return on every Valuation Date is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold. The Final Level is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level.

Coupons (All Coupon Dates): $Principal\ Amount \times Payment\ Rate = US$100,000.00 \times 1.167\% = US$1,167.00$

Since the Notes are not automatically called by the Bank and the Final Level is greater than or equal to the Barrier Level, the Maturity Redemption Payment would equal the Principal Amount.

$Maturity\ Redemption\ Payment = Principal\ Amount = US$100,000.00$

In this example, the Noteholder would receive Coupons totaling US$42,012.00 and the Maturity Redemption Payment of US$100,000.00 on the Maturity Date. The Notes in this example yield an annualized compound rate of return of approximately 14.81%, assuming that the Coupons paid are reinvested at such rate.

Suitability for Investment

The Notes differ from conventional debt and fixed income investments because they may not provide Noteholders with a return or a fixed payment stream, the Notes may be automatically called by the Bank (i.e., redeemed) prior to the Maturity Date as a result of the Auto-Call Feature, and the return, if any, is not determined prior to maturity or redemption. The Notes are not principal protected. Payments on the Notes depend on the Underlying Interest Return on each Valuation Date and, if the Notes are not automatically called by the Bank, whether the Final Level is less than the Barrier Level. The Notes may return substantially less than the amount originally invested by the Noteholder. Consequently, investors could lose substantially all of their investment in the Notes. A Coupon, if any, is payable on a given Coupon Date only if the Underlying Interest Return on the applicable Valuation Date is greater than or equal to the Payment Threshold. There can be no assurance that the Notes will generate any payments or a return (except for the minimum US$1 repayment per Note). Accordingly, the Notes are only suitable for investors who do not require current income and who can withstand a total loss of their investment (except for the minimum US$1 repayment per Note). The Notes are designed for investors with an investment horizon that extends to the Maturity Date, who are prepared to hold the Notes to maturity, who are prepared to assume the risk that the Notes will be automatically called by the Bank prior to the Maturity Date, and who are prepared to assume risks with respect to a return linked to the price performance of the Underlying Interest. An investment in the Notes is not suitable for an investor who may require an income stream or liquidity prior to the Maturity Date. See “RISK FACTORS – Suitability of the Notes for Investment”. Prospective purchasers should take into account additional risk factors associated with this offering of Notes. See “RISK FACTORS” in the Pricing Supplement and the Prospectus.

Tax Considerations

This summary is of a general nature only and is not intended to be, nor should it be relied upon as, legal or tax advice to any Noteholder, and it must be read in conjunction with, and is subject to the limitations and qualifications set out in, the Prospectus and the Pricing Supplement. Noteholders should consult their own tax advisors for advice with respect to the income tax consequences of an investment in Notes, based on their particular circumstances. The full amount of each Coupon, if any, generally will be required to be included in the Noteholder's income as interest in the taxation year of the Noteholder that includes the applicable Coupon Date, except to the extent that such amount was otherwise included in computing the Noteholder's income in the taxation year or a preceding taxation year. A Noteholder may realize or be deemed to realize income, a capital gain or loss due to fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Canadian dollar and the U.S. dollar. See “CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS” in the Pricing Supplement for further details.

The Notes will not constitute deposits that are insured under the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act.

Market Disruption Events and Special Circumstances can affect the payment of Coupons and / or the Maturity Redemption Payment. Prospective purchasers should carefully consider all of the information set forth in the Prospectus and the Pricing Supplement and, in particular, should take into account the specific risk factors associated with the Notes set forth under “RISK FACTORS” in the Pricing Supplement and the Prospectus.

TDSI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Bank. Consequently, the Bank is a related and connected issuer of TDSI within the meaning of applicable securities legislation in connection with the offering of Notes.

There is no market through which the Notes may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell the Notes. This may affect the pricing of the Notes in any secondary market that may develop, the transparency and availability of their trading prices and liquidity. A Noteholder who sells a Note to TDSI prior to the Maturity Date will receive sale proceeds (which may be less than the Principal Amount of the Note and less than the Maturity Redemption Payment that would otherwise be payable if the Note were maturing at such time) equal to the bid price for the Note, provided by TDSI, if available, determined at the time of sale, minus any applicable Early Trading Fee. Any sale of Notes to TDSI in the secondary market within the first 170 days after the Issue Date will be subject to an Early Trading Fee, deductible from the sale proceeds of the Notes and determined as follows:

If Sold Within	Early Trading Fee
	Per Note	% of Principal Amount
0-45 days of Issue Date	US $4.00	4.00%
46-90 days of Issue Date	US $3.00	3.00%
91-135 days of Issue Date	US $2.00	2.00%
136-170 days of Issue Date	US $1.00	1.00%
