TORONTO, ONTARIO– February 6, 2018– Datametrex AI Limited (the "Company" or "Datametrex") (TSXV: DM, FSE: D4G) is pleased to announce that its wholly owned subsidiary, Ronin Blockchain Corp., has established it's first cryptocurrency mining datacenter in Quebec, Canada fulfilling a key first step in Ronin's geo-diversification strategy. Ronin has secured a brownfield location to initiate cryptocurrency mining in Quebec by Q2 2018, while our team continues to explore further opportunities for efficient industrial scale mining in the province.

"The acquisition by Datametrex of Ronin allowed us to quickly leverage their existing footprint in Quebec with Nexalogy and establish datacenter mining facilities in Canada to diversify our geographic footprint. Quebec provides the core fundamentals for successful mining of cold climate, low power cost and stable operating environment. We feel this accelerates our growth plans domestically while we continue to move forward with our strategic relationship with GoSun Holdings in Asia.
