GoSun (www.gosun.com) was founded in 2006 and is one of China's largest infrastructure and networking companies with over 90 operating data centers in China. GoSun is a public company traded on the Shenzhen Stock Exchange (000971.SZ). GosSun has Tier one and Tier two data centers providing hosting services for companies such as Alibaba, Tencent, China Telecom, etc. The agreement with GoSun provides Ronin with access to the world's largest Blockchain mining market with key fundamental drivers for success: fast internet connections, low cost energy delivery, proximity to miners and equipment producers.

"Signing the agreement with Gosun positions Ronin to become a leader in industrial scale crypto currency mining without incurring the massive costs and time delays associated with building new data centers to accommodate large scale mining. The opportunity to utilize GoSun's existing infrastructure, enjoy pass through pricing on power and the ability to piggyback on their procurement of equipment is an advantage that is unique to Ronin.
