DATAMETREX AI PROVIDES UPDATE ON NEGOTIATIONS WITH LOTTE

TORONTO, ONTARIO– March 22, 2018– Datametrex AI Limited (the "Company" or "Datametrex") (TSXV: DM, FSE: D4G) is pleased to announce that the Company is in final stages of negotiations for implementing the Nexalogy based artificial intelligence ("AI") solution, "Nexa Intelligence", with Lotte Group ("Lotte") along with the Company's partner Comas Co., a sister company of Daewoo Information Systems Co., both of which are owned by the Metanet Company. The initial phase of the project will be with one of the divisions of Lotte, with an option to expand across the organization.

"We are thrilled to share this update. The team at Nexalogy have done a great job positioning their tools to understand and analyze unstructured data in the Korean language, such that we can now offer Lotte and others the benefits of social analysis and discovery. We are pleased with the progress with Lotte and expect strong demand for our AI solutions across many departments.", says Andrew Ryu, CEO & Chairman of the Company.
