About Blockchain Technology

Blockchain is a transparent and incorruptible digital ledger that can be applied to any transaction of value. This digital ledger is a dynamic growing list of records (blocks) linked to each other and encrypted for security. In addition to security, Blockchain enables the use of smart contracts, which are self-automated computer programs that can carry out the terms of any contract or transaction. Blockchain is the underlying technology behind cryptocurrencies.

"...the most critical area where Blockchain helps is to guarantee the validity of a transaction by recording it not only on a main register but a connected distributed system of registers, all of which are connected through a secure validation mechanism." Ian Khan, TEDx Speaker, Author and Technology Futurist
