PORTFOLIO MANAGER

The economic recovery in the UK could face several challenges in the coming months. The government's austerity measures may have a significant impact on economic growth and there may be a slowdown in the pace of corporate earnings expansion. This environment is one that should favour companies with strong balance sheets, with the potential for good long-term profit growth in tough economic conditions and which are on attractive valuations. I continue to find such opportunities on a stock specific basis across a range of sectors including financials, media and technology. Currently, UK equities appear fairly valued versus their own history, but they remain attractive when compared with some other asset classes including corporate bonds.

INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

The NAV fell by 2.4%, compared to its benchmark (-0.8%). The overweight stance in banks detracted from returns, owing to continuing worries about the potential impact of European debt problems, and a heightened awareness of regulatory risk in the run up to the Independent Commission on Banking's interim report. Nevertheless, strong stock selection in the consumer services sectors was beneficial. Notable contributors included British Sky Broadcasting, whose shares rose sharply after the government agreed to let News Corporation bid for the satellite broadcaster. An underweight stance in the oil & gas sector was also detrimental amid expectations that supply constraints due to geopolitical factors could lead oil prices higher.

GLOSSARY

NAV

The total value of a company's assets less the total value of its liabilities is its net asset value (NAV). For valuation purposes it is common to divide net assets by the number of shares in issue to give the net assets per share. NAV calculations can include or exclude current financial year income. For the purposes of this factsheet, they are valued with assets including income and costs and with debt valued at the market.

DISCOUNT

If the share price of an investment company is lower than the net asset value (NAV) per share, the company is said to be trading at a discount. The discount is shown as a percentage of the NAV.

GEARING EXPOSURE

Investment trusts have the ability to borrow additional money to invest, known as gearing. The trust has the ability to use bank loans, bank overdrafts and Contracts for Difference (CFDs) to increase its exposure to stocks. CFDs are used as a way of gaining exposure to the price movements of shares without buying the underlying shares directly.

OVERWEIGHT/UNDERWEIGHT

If a stock is deemed "overweight" this indicates that the portfolio has a higher exposure to a stock compared to its benchmark. If a stock is deemed "underweight" this indicates that portfolio has a lower exposure to a stock compared to its benchmark.
