

Source Energy Services Update on Refinancing Process and Receipt of Waiver of Cross Default from Lenders under its Credit Agreement

Calgary, Alberta (September 15, 2022) TSX: SHLE – Source Energy Services Ltd. (together with its affiliates, “Source” or the “Company”) announces that it is in the advanced stages of closing a new USD $60 million senior credit facility. As noted in our news release of August 15, 2022, the Company did not make the August 15, 2022, interest payment (the “August Interest Payment”) due on the senior secured first lien notes (the “Senior Notes”). Source has still not made the August Interest Payment as the Company continues to be prohibited under the terms of the Company's existing credit facility from doing so. The prohibition relates specifically to the Company not meeting a trailing financial test as a result of the Company's financial results in the fourth quarter of 2021.

Source has now exceeded the cure period for the non-payment of the August Interest Payment and is currently in default on the Senior Notes. The Company is in discussions with noteholders representing a significant portion of the outstanding principal of the Senior Notes, who have expressed to Source that they are supportive of the Company's efforts to complete a refinancing of its credit facility. Based on such discussions, the Company does not expect the noteholders to take any immediate steps to accelerate repayment of the Senior Notes under the indenture that governs the Senior Notes. Upon closing of the new senior credit facility, the Company intends to pay the August Interest Payment. Further, the lenders under the Company's current credit facility have provided a conditional waiver on the cross default (the “Waiver”) arising from the default of the Senior Notes.

The Waiver is effective until the earlier to occur of: (i) September 21, 2022, and (ii) the date that the trustee appointed under the indenture governing the Senior Notes, or holders of not less than 25% of the aggregate principal amount of Senior Notes then outstanding, declares an acceleration of the outstanding Senior Notes such that the notes become immediately due and payable (such earlier date to occur is referred to as the “Extension Period”).

The Company is current with all its suppliers, industry partners and contractors and intends to remain so. The utilization of the Extension Period will not affect any of the Company's operations or commercial obligations, as the Company currently has more than $20 million of available liquidity.
