

James E. Wagner Cultivation Honours Veterans in Canada with Donations to Soldier On

Kitchener, Ontario, Nov. 05, 2018 -- James E. Wagner Cultivation Corporation (“JWC” or the “Company”) (TSX VENTURE: JWCA), is pleased to announce its contribution to Soldier On, in honour of Veterans of the Canadian Armed Forces. JWC will be donating $20,000 (twenty thousand dollars) CDN to Soldier On. In addition, JWC will make a donation for every new patient that registers with the Company during the entire month of November 2018.

JWC is committed to providing its patients with the highest quality medical cannabis. Recognizing the many ways cannabis can be useful to different types of patients, JWC would like to take the month of November to honour Veterans of the Canadian Armed Forces. Veterans make up a large proportion of the medical cannabis patient base at JWC, and the Company is proud to honour Veterans and give back to those who have bravely protected and served our country. JWC’s CTO, William Werth, is a part of that Veteran community. He served in the Canadian Armed Forces and was injured in a tour of service in 2010. In an effort to provide ongoing support to Veterans in Canada, JWC is pleased to be able to provide a $20,000 (twenty thousand dollar) CDN donation to the Soldier On program, plus an additional amount for each new patient that registers throughout November.

About James E. Wagner Cultivation Corporation
